PISCATAWAY NEEDS A RESPONSIBLE GROWTH AND DE

REPUBLICAN Chris Lombard

On the side of the big developers

Lombard, the Republican candidate, is part of the party that historically has been on the side of the big developers, providing corporate welfare and other incentives.

And he advocates the sale of the Cornell Dairy Farm to developers.

INDEPENDENT Helen Merolla

Has not stopped over-development

Although Merolla has been mayor for the last three years, irresponsible growth is still a pressing issue in Piscataway. She may be running on a new ticket, but she has no new plan to control sprawl.

REAL PLAN FOR DEVELOPMENT

DEMOCRAT BRIAN WAHLER

As a lifelong resident, Brian understands the problems of growth facing Piscataway today. As mayor, Brian will improve our quality of life by:

- Keeping the Cornell Dairy Farm as a working farm or open space forever, with fair and full compensation for the current owners
- Preserving more open spaces
- Controlling growth, putting families in charge, not the developers
